The Harbour School Named "National School of Excellence"

The Harbour School has received the National School of Excellence Award from the National Association of Special Education Teachers (NASSET) for the 2010–2011 school year. Selection as a NASSET School of Excellence is the highest honor a non-public or private special education school can achieve through their association. The recognition is bestowed on special education schools that meet rigorous professional criteria and have demonstrated "truly exceptional dedication, commitment and achievement in the field of special education."

NASSET is a national membership organization whose primary focus is to support and assist teachers in the field of special education and to ensure that students with special needs receive the best possible education.

"More proof we are a FINE, FINE school," said Dr. Linda Jacobs, Executive Director. "Congratulations to our staff, students and families who work together to make this an award-winning school!"

The Harbour School has two campuses – Annapolis and Owings Mills, Maryland. For more information about The Harbour School, please visit the Web page at www.harbourschool.org or call 410-974-4248 (Annapolis) or 443-394-3760 (Owings Mills.)
